Set in 17th-century in the Spanish dominated Southern Italy, where a Prince, refusing to marry one of the seven eligible princesses, goes forth on his white stallion and finds a lusciously ripe peasant girl. This splashy and beautiful comic tale is set in forests and yellow fields and at locations that include the 14th-century monastery of San Lorenzo at Padula, the 15th-century town of Bracciano and the ruins of the 4th-century Circus of Maxentius.
