Bapputi, a former convict who was falsely charged with murder of his father, chances to catch a young thief who was trying to steal coconuts, but feels pity for him as he learns his tragic story and invites him to work with him in logging sites in forest. The young man belonged to a big feudal family now in ruins. His connection with Bapputti set the gossip mill ticking. Bapputti and the elder sister of the young man find themselves in the centre of rumours as communal elements try to take advantage of the situation. Challenging the orthodox societal norms, Bapputti invites her in to his life.
