28-year-old Shakhina, her second husband Meher and three children lead a poor but happy life in a quiet village. Her first husband Noor, who had also remarried, returns home wealthy after a few years' stint abroad. Noor feels guilty for the problems his elder brother caused in his marriage with Shakhina that led to the divorce. Noor and Shakhina also have a few secrets between them. Finally, at an inescapable moment, all three, as well as Noor's wife, arrive at a truth that leads them to rediscover themselves.
