

Antichrist

Denmark-Germany-France-Sweden-Italy/2009/35mm/
Colour-B&W/104'/English

Direction, Screenplay: Lars Von Trier

Producer: Meta Louise Foldager

Cinematography: Anthony Dod Mantle

Editing: Anders Refn

Sound: Kristian Eidnes Andersen

Cast: Willem Dafoe, Charlotte Gainsbourg

Awards/Festivals

Cannes Film Festival, Best Actress Award 2009

Neuchatel International Fantastic Film Festival 2009

Auckland International film Festival 2009

Bangkok International Film Festival 2009

A couple is having sex, while their toddler son wanders out of his bedroom, opens a window, steps onto a ledge, and falls to his death. Subsequently, the mother suffers from terrible anxiety attacks. Her husband, a therapist, in spite of warnings not to treat people with whom you have close relations, they begin to tackle her fears together. They return to their remote country cabin, called Eden in the woods, to help her conquer her fears. The tough therapeutic struggle develops into a battle of the sexes. Her fears inhabit them both and even he is not exempt from experiencing the merciless evil of nature.