A young rebellious Dutch woman, hiking through the Ireland accidentally stumbles along Martin, a widower who lives in a lonely house on a beautiful island. Martin offers her food in exchange for work. She accepts on the condition that they keep their personal lives out of conversation and restrict their relationship to the work to be done. What connects them is solitude they both see as freedom. Soon the two of them become curious about each other and want both: to keep their 'nothing personal' deal and to break it.
